eEmpACT Offers Classroom Teaching

New classes focus on higher level of eEmpACT learning

Bloomington, Minn. (August 30, 2005)- eEmpACT Software, a division of Bond International Software, recently announced the launch of their new eEmpACT University class offerings to all current customers. The variety of classes offered covers everything from product-based front office and back office teaching to service-based customer sales education.

eEmpACT University was created to help customers work more independently and leverage a greater understanding of the software. Allowing customers to experience in-depth hands-on learning of certain features in eEmpACT cultivates a more thorough understanding of its extensive software functions and capabilities, which customers often don't fully utilize.

“By providing our customers a classroom-style learning environment for a specific area of our software empowers users to run their staffing business more cost-effectively,” said eEmpACT President and CEO Tim Giehl. “As they take that knowledge back home, the skills learned in the classroom will result in improved productivity concerning everyday business operations.”

eEmpACT University has a full portfolio of course offerings scheduled throughout the fall. The first class, focusing on Microsoft Query report writing, will be on September 9 in Minneapolis. The same class will also be offered in Atlanta on September 15. Additional one-day classes scheduled in October and November include “UltraDay”, “eEmpACT as a Sales Tool” and “Advanced Express Day.”

Conveniently scheduled on consecutive days, exclusive discounts are offered to those who register for more than one class. Complete details are available by contacting Jennifer Palmer at 800-456-5660, ext. 254 or emailing jenniferp@eempact.com. More
